

Construction Notice – Shared-use path closure near Century Park Station

Beginning on/around February 10, Leducor, the Design-Build contractor for the project, will close the shared-use path west of 111 Street, between 23 Avenue and Century Park Station. This closure is necessary in order to remove the retaining wall and part of the berm next to 111 Street for the eventual expansion of the road to accommodate the LRT tracks.

Preparation work will involve removing existing infrastructure such as railings, fences and lighting. Once the retaining wall has been removed, the berm will be levelled before construction of the expanded roadway begins this summer. Part of the area will also be used to store equipment and supplies. Details about this work will be shared in a separate notice.

The shared-use path is expected to be closed until summer 2026 to ensure this work can be completed safely. A detour will be in place throughout the closure.

Detour information:

Pedestrians, cyclists and wheelchair users will be rerouted onto the sidewalk east of 111 Street between 23 Avenue and 29A Avenue. Cyclists will be required to dismount before the Century Park Transit Centre to ensure the safety of people waiting for the bus on 111 Street. Western access to Century Park Station will be maintained for transit riders. Those not using transit are asked to cross 111 Street at 29A Avenue/Saddleback Road to prevent further congestion of the pedway at Century Park Station. Please refer to the map below for details.
